4TH UNDERGRADUATE POSTER CONFERENCE

KARACHI – OCTOBER 24TH, 2024

Theme: The United Nations: Advancing Peace, Human Rights, and Sustainable Development for All

THE PURPOSE AND FOUNDATION OF THE CONFERENCE:

On behalf of the Department of International Relations (FUUAST, Karachi), we cordially invite undergraduate students for the United Nations Day Poster Conference. The foremost purpose of this poster conference is to delve into the United Nations' pivotal role in advancing global peace, promoting human rights, and fostering sustainable development for all. The aim of this conference is to explore the historical, political, economic, socio-economic, and environmental factors that have shaped the UN's actions across the globe. This will encourage students to enhance their learning about the United Nations and provide them with an opportunity to critically evaluate their knowledge of its diverse roles and impacts.

The conference aims to explore the UN's initiatives under various themes such as conflict resolution, climate action, humanitarian aid, and more, while providing a critical platform for further discussions and debates to analyze the UN's influence on future global challenges. This conference offers an excellent opportunity for undergraduate students to present their research, gain feedback from faculty and peers, and engage in interdisciplinary discussions on the complex relationship between peace, development, and rights in the context of the UN's efforts.

This conference welcomes poster presentations on the main theme, "The United Nations: Advancing Peace, Human Rights, and Sustainable Development for All." Participants are requested to create a poster with a relevant sub-theme pertaining to this main theme. Apart from mentioning multiple aspects, you are requested to pick only one. For instance:

- Conflict Resolution and Peacebuilding
- Humanitarian Aid and Crisis Management
- Human Rights Advocacy
- Climate Action and Environmental Protection
- Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment
